WHO'S NEWS

Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices New York Properties has announced that seasoned real estate brokers, Antonia Watson, founder of the Watson International Team, and Nora Coccaro, Licensed Sales Associate, have joined the firm's rapidly expanding group of professionals.

Watson has joined as Senior Global Sales Executive and Associate Broker. Specializing in both international investment properties and luxury sales, Watson and Coccaro join Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices New York Properties from The Corcoran Group and will be based in the firm's Manhattan office, located at 590 Madison Avenue.

Watson has been involved in over $1 billion of residential and commercial real estate to date in both the resale and new development sectors. She has been consistently positioned in the top one percent of real estate professionals globally. Specializing in exclusive seller representation and investment sales, Watson achieves "Multi-Million Dollar Club" status yearly and is a frequent recipient of Top Listing Agent and Top Sales Agent awards. She has brokered many of NYC's record-breaking real estate deals. Watson is also a prominent landlord, enabling her with the unique advantage of providing unparalleled direct knowledge to her clients.

Coccaro brings nearly three decades of extensive international experience in real estate and within the financial arena, where she served in executive leadership positions at large publicly-traded companies.

She first entered the real estate industry in her native Uruguay with a focus on high-end sales in the affluent beach town of Punta del Este. For the past decade, she has made New York City her home and has been representing local buyers and international investors navigate the complex Manhattan residential market. She has a highly specialized expertise in select trophy properties such as the exclusive Baccarat Residences at 20 West 53rd St.

Bold New York, a boutique full-service real estate consulting and brokerage firm, today announced that seasoned real estate agent David Avgi has joined the firm. Previously with Douglas Elliman and Keller Williams, Avgi has nearly a decade of luxury real estate experience.

Throughout his career in real estate, Avgi has worked closely with a diverse range of buyers and sellers to assist them in navigating the complex Manhattan and Brooklyn residential market, including first-time and repeat buyers, investors, families, pied-a-terre purchasers and foreign buyers. Avgi will be based in the firm's Brooklyn office.

Avgi has worked with firms such as Empire, Douglas Elliman, Keller Williams and Hecht Group flipping over $150 Million in real estate to working in short sales, luxury rentals and sales. At Bold New York, he is managing more than $500 million in new condo development with high-profile clients Avalanche group and Gilmore capital with specialization in Midtown Manhattan, Chelsea, Murray Hill and Flatiron as well as the downtown Brooklyn area.

Douglas Elliman Real Estate has announced that Eileen O'Sullivan has been named Branch Manager of its Port Washington office.

O'Sullivan brings with her two decades in Fortune 500 company leadership in addition to her years as a licensed real estate salesperson.

Her background in strategic planning, marketing and communications will serve her well in the position. O'Sullivan was appointed upon the retirement of sales manager and associate broker Karen Newhouse, who led the Port Washington office for over two decades.

"We are excited for Eileen, who has a proven track record of success, integrity and respect for her peers. She's the perfect fit to carry on and build on the culture and tradition of our Port Washington office," said Ann Conroy, President of Douglas Elliman Long Island.
